He was not appointed police commissioner until March of that year.

The Commissioner, referring to the fact brought out by Mr. Goff that no judge had ever rendered a decision declaring pool-selling illegal, cited a decision by Judge Van Brunt, in the case of Thomas F. Wynne. The Court of Appeals had upheld the decision. "I'm glad you mentioned that case," said Mr. Goff. "That's the case of the Barclay-street pool seller who said he was a common carrier. I'm glad to hear that you base your action on that case."

Mr. Goff asked the Commissioner if he had been present at the trial of Captain O'Connor by the Police Board.

Mr. Sheehan replied affirmatively.

"Has there been any decision in that case."

WHY NO DECISION WAS REACHED.

"Well, the board has changed since then. Commissioners McLean and McClave have left, and the papers in the case have been sent to Commissioners Murray and Kerwin. I believe they have them yet; the testimony and some other papers. Murray and Kerwin are the Republican members of the board." "Have you ever taken any action looking toward a settlement of Captain O'Connor's case?"

"I have been ready to vote myself." "Did you tell anybody so?"
"I did in an interview and personally to my colleagues."

Then Mr. Goff entered a long examination concerning a number of cases which

The commissioner said he had never heard of this charge. He said the same of a number of other cases which Mr. Goff cited. Mr. Sheehan admitted that the Slavin trial had not been decided as promptly as it should have been. He thought Commissioner McClave's absence was responsible for the delay. The witness said of a number of cases mentioned by Mr. Goff, that the charges antedated his appointment as commissioner.

Mr. Gorf asked, with a smile, "that every nolice commissioner is corrupt and a bribetaker except Commissioner McLean?"

The witness became angry at that. "I won't say whether I heard it said or not." he said. "I have read that some Republican stumm speakers had expressed themselves in such a manner, and probably every one of them are bribe-takers themselves. They hed."

"You said on Friday," observed Mr. Goff, "that the people of New York were indebted to Richard Croker for closing the pool rooms." continued Mr. Goff.
"I said he was always digging them," said Mr. Sheehan.
"And so the fact remains that Richard Croker, a private citizen, had to love the commissioners to do their duty." succeed Mr. Goff.

BILLS FOR DINNERS AND CABS.

The Chamber of Deputies Decide to Prosecuts Officials of the Government,

PARIS, Oct. 29.—There was a stormy lebate in the Chamber of Deputies to-lay over the actions of M. Favette, a sigh official in the ministry of com-high official in the ministry of commerce.

In the accounts were included bills for dinners on 660 occasions, and for six cabs each for the use of Deputy Geurin and Senator Lourties.

Premier DuPuy admitted that these bills were irregular, but thought that there were no circumstances connected with them that would justify the prosecution of the offenders. M. Jaures, however, demanded that the parties contracting business hills be prosecuted. M. Geurin challenged the Government to presecute him, declaring that he had been guilty of no misconduct.

The Chamber approved M. Jaures' demand.

The Chamter approved M. James demand.

The morning newspapers agree that the Favette incident in the chamber threatened for a time the existence of the Cabinet. The resignation of M. Lourties, Minister of Commerce, is still regarded as possible. The attack really was directed by Jules Roche, whose chief of Cabinet Favette once was, and the difficulty arose through the efforts of M. Lourties to defend Favette's policy.

A Woman Hanged by a Man of Whom She Was En morred.

SPARTA, WIS., Oct. 22.—Samuel S. Buxsten, who was arrested Saturday on the charge of murdering Mary A. Jones, a maiden lady, at her home a few miles from this city, on the 21st instant, where she was found handing by the neck, has confessed the murder. His preliminary hearing was held this morning seen after midnight, when he waived examination. He was immediately removed to Sparta, fears being entertained that a mob might attempt to take him from Iail.

The crime is one of a revolting nature. Three years ago Buxton, by a series of obscene letters purporting to come from a witch and directed to Miss Joaes, hypnestized ner and caused her ruin. The intimacy was continued to the day of her death. By the same system of deceit the infatuated woman consented to be strung up by the neck in the belief that it would cause the death of Ruxton's wife. The second time the experiment was tried buxton pushed the chair on which the foolish woman stood from under her and she ewing into eternity. Buxton locked the woman in the house and left for his home a short distance away. His motive for committing the murder is that he was tried of the woman, Buxton has a wife and three children. The murdered woman was a near neighbor of the Buxtons, and lived alone.

As soon as court was called to-day Buxton was brought in and pleaded guity, and was timesilately sentenced to the peritentary for life.

The matter of the House of Lords was the greatest constitutional question that had arisen in two centuries. Eno raised the point that the State courts were without jurisdiction, and that he could be tried only in the Federal courts. This view of the law was upfield by the Circuit Court, but is upset by to-day's decision of the Supreme Court, which remanded the case to the State courts. The ground on which Eno resisted State court jurisdiction was that the oftense order the banking laws of the United States was within the exclusive

The still ers voted Sunday, by a majority of 41 in nearly every thousand votes not to return to work. After the vote was passed several meetings of the weavers in individual mills were held, and votes were rassed in favor of returning to work. Today the mills showed a gain in the number of weavers employed, and when a mass-meeting was held in the park less than three thousand people were present. The parade of weavers did not inchide two hurdred persons. Some eighteen hundred operatives crowded the Academy of Music, and speeches were made by Secretary Whitehead and others.

MCSI REMARKABLE STRIKE.

The general advice given was that it was wise to return to work under the terms offered. A rising vote was taken on the question of returning, and hardly twenty-five persons voted to remain out. The strike has been the most orderly affair of its kind in the long history of labor struggles here. General business has been about paralyzed, and although many people were alle, no serious disturbance occurred, and drunkerness and minor crimes fell off. Operatives lost about $1.500,000 in wages, while the loss to the mills was not severe, owing to the depressed condition of trade. The sympathy of the public has been overwhelming in favor of the strikers, but there is much satisfaction on all sides now that the long fight is ended.

Mary and Democrats Openly Express

Their Disartifaction With Him.

EASTON, MD., Oct. 29.—Senator Gibson did not preside over the Democratic mass-meeting in Music Hall Saturday. As United States senator, he would naturally be considered the biggest man in his party at his own home. Yet he was not even given a seat on the platform.

The central committee was plainly told several days ago by a member of the sati-Gibson Democrats that if he should be male chairman of the meeting at least one hundred prominent Democrats would leave the hall in a body.

Their animosity toward the Senator is based on that gentleman's course in the Senate regarding the tariff till. Several other candidates were named for chairman by Gibson's friends, but they were all objected to by the "antis." Finally the central committee decided to run the meeting officially, and so Charles R. Wooters, chairman of the committee, was made chairman of the meeting. More than one-half of the vice presidents elected are pronounced anti-Gibson men. Not satisfied with capturing the organization of the meeting, the anti-Gibsonless proceeded to make it more unpleasant for the Senator.

Two questions were submitted in writ-

Convention, by which you were hom-nated, in voting down a resolution com-mending President Cleveland for his course in reference to tariff legislation during the last session of Congress?" during the last session of Congress?

ANSW IS PARTILLY SOFT FACTORY.

The answers to the questions, while not what many of the signers hoped for, were partially satisfactory. There were some few who would not be satisfied with anything but a vigorous denunciation by the candidates of Senators Gorman and Gibson, the latter of whom satin the audience an interested listener. These gentlemen were disappointed, for neither Maryland senator was attacked, though not a single word or syllable that could be construed into support of them or their position on the tariff was uttered by either Mr. Miles or Mr. Henry. Senator Gibson and those of his friends who clustered around him seemed greatly pleased that he escaped condemnation. It is believed that the meeting has very much widened the breach in the Talbot county bemocracy.

The flames spread to an adjoining bonarding-house and this was also burned. In the boarding-house over a dozen persons were askeep. Many rushed down the stairways, and the police believed all the occupants had escaped, when a man appeared at a second-story window, and an instant later jumped to the sidewalk. He was seriously injured, Ladders were then run up, and the firemen began a search of the building. The body of Albert S. Shaw, aged nineteen, a porter, was found in a rear room.
